BROOKHART SAYS 'CAL' IS PUPPET

Iowa Senator Bolts Coolidge Support

'TOOL OF WALL STREET'

Farm Bloc Chief May Go for LaFollette

EMMETTSBURG, Iowa, Oct. 3.—Declaring that President Coolidge belongs to the "Wall Street bloc" and that the leadership of the republican party has forsaken the principles of Lincoln and Roosevelt, United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart, republican farm bloc leader, in a speech here today, launched an attack upon President Coolidge and his administration.

Abandons Coolidge

While he did not openly espouse the cause of the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket, Senator Brookhart made it clear that he would not support Coolidge and took a position on the issues of the moment diametrically opposed to the president. Three times in his speech he mentioned Senator Robert LaFollette in a favorable light.

At the same time, he clearly denied reports that he was bolting the G. O. P.

"I have never had a thought," he said, "of leaving the party."

ATTACK RAIL, WATER TARIFFS

Port Arthur Demands Equality in Complaint

HEARING IN DECEMBER

Other Gulf Ports Given Undue Advantage, Claim

First formal hearing in the complaint against more than 700 railroad lines in the United States brought before the Interstate Commerce commission last June by the traffic department of the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce and Shipping, charging this city is being unduly discriminated against in rail and water rate tariffs, will be held in Port Arthur, week beginning next Dec. 1.

This information was received by Manager A. L. Burge of the chamber today from the secretary of the federal commission.

Many Rail Attorneys Coming

The case will be heard before Examiner Fuller in the chamber council rooms. That from 50 to 100 attorneys and traffic men for the many railroads mentioned in the complaint will be on hand, was the prediction of Burge today.

It is expected the hearing will continue a week. The case is termed by Traffic Manager Taylor of the chamber as "the most ambitious case in point of territory covered and defendants to be summoned, in the history of the Sabine district."

The formal complaint against the 700 railroads was drawn up by Taylor last June and filed with the Interstate Commerce commission.

Port Arthur the Goat

The complaint comes out strongly and charges Port Arthur in the matter of published rail and water tariffs has been made the victim of higher rates on practically every known commodity which is generally

UNIQUE PATENTS SECURED HERE

Man Copyrights Formula For Making Salad

Maybe it's the drouth or the presidential year or maybe it's just because—anyhow Port Arthurians of inventive dispositions have been working the past summer and secured a number of unique patents.

This was learned at the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping offices this morning from C. K. DeBusk, assistant manager, who states the last few days, the inventive ones have been up with their schemes.

One man, not a woman incidentally nor a graduate of a girls' industrial school, has copyrighted a formula for making salad dressing. Housewives in the neighborhood of the man with salad dressing complex, are said to be keeping him working night and day manufacturing his product. He wants the chamber to put him in touch with a manufacturing concern to put his product on the market.

Another Port Arthurian who probably felt unusually sorry or his women folks or the latter had forced upon him the ordeal of dishwashing has patented a machine which he says will make cleaning of tableware as simple as listening over the radio. That a woman would come out with this invention was expected, but DeBusk claims the patent was by a man.

Another patent of a Port Arthur man is for protecting bank officials and other handlers of money. It is a bullet-proof screen above the cage of a bank teller's window, which drops like lightning when a lever is touched with the foot. The inventor says the screen can be lowered even if the bank clerk is facing a desperado and six shooter. Nothing but consternation remains for the hold-up man, the inventor of this patent says.

WALL STREET JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—No developments in the outside situation were assignable for the reaction which took place in today's session. Business continued good and politics exerted little influence on financial considerations. It was obvious from the market's behavior that the bullish enthusiasm prevailing earlier in the week had caused many traders to assume larger declines than they could safely carry. It was the correction of this situation which was largely responsible for the reaction of 2 to 5 points from the week's best levels which took place among the principal trading stocks.

—to build up Weight!

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fat treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells! Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S., the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rids the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Start taking S.S.S. today and your great problem, that of your personal appearance, can be solved.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

"WHERE STYLE BEGINS"

THE NEWS' SOCIAL AND HOUSEHOLD PAGE

Elaborate Tunics And Flares Rival Slim Frocks Of The Straightline Mode

LONG SLEEVES and the lack of belt are style hints which have now become so broad or at least so broadcast that we know what to expect of a large number of our frocks. The principle is applied with equal effectiveness to many afternoon and street dresses of simple or tailored mode.

The redingote and the ensemble suit offer ample opportunities for beltless effects, although this is by no means a fixed rule. Long tunics are a means of satisfying the desire of long sleeves for further expression and frequently, also, they replace a belt by a side fastening.

A coat that follows the tunic mode and almost deceives the casual observer into thinking it is an ensemble suit has a tunic-like upper portion of bottle green Jamuna deeply scalloped at the bottom and sleeves. The line of tan kasha that has the courage to hang a goodly bit below the knee in slip fashion is banded with soft tan fur. The sleeves are given the same treatment and there is a snug choker collar.

Many admiring moths will hover around the flame colored evening dress seen in a smart downtown shop. It is of elaborately beaded georgette with a flare all its own that is marked by a band of flying squirrel. It is sleeveless and the slip is very dark brown satin.

Going to classes will be a joy in a smart, striped flannel dress. It is in shades of gray with a soft, crushed belt of red leather and triangle pockets. The top sleeves, reminiscent of the leg o' mutton sleeves that mother wore in her college days, are a new feature. The tops of the buttoned up for trimming are covered in red leather like the belt.

For football games on crisp November days there's a sport outfit that is smart enough to please both the home and visiting teams. The dress of blue flannel is a little straightline affair with a narrow belt. The full length coat is of large black and white plaid lined with blue flannel, and collared and cuffed in luxurious soft gray fur, with a pocket in the lining for a clever hankie.

A charming sweater of brushed wool will make a chilly girl attractive, as well as comfortable. It has a design woven in the border and may be buttoned up snugly under the chin with only the round collar and cuffs of the little tan blouse showing. To accommodate cold hands there is a slit pocket at each side.

The Chinese influence which has been forecast for some time will definitely take shape in fall fashions. Since the Chinese note lends itself to luxurious expression it will particularly be apparent in evening wraps and evening gowns.

This trend sometimes declares itself in the design of the brocade of which so many of these garments will be fashioned. Sometimes in the lines of the garment itself, while at other times the influence is merely reflected in the coloring. This is the case in one evening cloak of mirror-krepe in "Old Chinese Red" trimmed with gold thread embroidery forming a very closely worked and elaborate design. This characteristic color combination of old Cathay, reminiscent of glowing tapestries, lends a remarkable richness to a garment simple enough in its lines. And it is this combination of simplicity of line with richness of material, artistry of color which will mark the fall season and make it one of rare beauty in costume.

Miss Eunice Chardin Given Pretty Shower

A pleasing event of Wednesday evening was the delightful shower which had as hostess Miss Esther Crampton at her home, 330 Richmond avenue, and arranged in honor of Miss Eunice Chardin, a charming bride-elect, whose marriage to Mr. T. B. Parker is one of the outstanding events of the coming week.

The fascinating diversion of hearts was enjoyed during the evening, with Miss Elizabeth Melton receiving the prize for high score and Miss Eunice Chardin being awarded the booby favor.

As a delightful contest for the evening and at the time appointed for the shower the names of the guests were written on slips of paper and concealed about the room, each paper being attached to a string winding about the house. The guests were bidden to follow the strings, at the end of which they would find their heart's desire—this heart announcing the marriage of Miss Chardin and Mr. Parker on Tuesday, October 8. Miss Chardin's string led her to an attractive display of gifts, lovingly presented from her admiring friends.

GIRL WHO LOST LEG IS WEDDED

Heroine Hurt in Bombing Of Paris Happy

PARIS, Oct. 3.—Nobody who was in Paris the first weeks of the war can have forgotten the outburst of indignation when it became known that a German Taube plane flying over the city had dropped a bomb which so injured a little girl that her leg had to be amputated. Subscriptions flowed in for the victim, Denise Cartier, thirteen years old who bore herself so courageously that admiration for the sufferer was added to abhorrence for the act, then unprecedented.

"Be sure and not let my mother know it is serious," she begged the doctors just before the operation.

Denise celebrated the tenth anniversary of the day she was injured September 26, by marrying Gaston Lemoine, a non-commissioned officer of a machine gun regiment, who was decorated with the war cross.

Hubby Smoked And Wouldn't Bathe; Sued

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 3.—Charges that her husband was "bath tub shy" were made in a petition for divorce filed by a woman in Judge Louis Wilson's court here recently.

The plaintiff declared in her petition that she was descended from a family noted for cleanliness and a daily bath. Her husband, however, she alleges, often missed his tub for 10 days at a time without bathing an eye.

Among other "irritations" ascribed to her spouse, was the habit of using "vile over-powering pipes."

CHICAGO "L" LINES

PLAN NEW EXTENSIONS

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Construction of 34 miles of extensions to Chicago's elevated railroad system to cost $23,100,000 will be made as a consequence of the breaking off of negotiations intended to bring about the sale of the system to the city, according to Samuel Insull, president of the company's board of directors. The city's plan now contemplates the construction of a subway under the downtown section and extending into the residential section north and south and the possible construction and operation of a city owned system of surface and elevated lines, Mayor Dwyer said.

Baby Show Thursday, Oct. 18, To One of Major Events of Big Fair

Honors to Be Awarded In Four Classes From Under One Year to Four Years And Under

What's Port Arthur's prettiest baby's name?

This will be made known on Thursday afternoon, October 18, at 3 o'clock at the Baby Show at Port Arthur's First Annual Fair. The Baby Show will be held in the main exposition building at the Fair grounds. All entries will be received at the exposition building between the hours of 9 a. m. and 2 p. m. on October 18. No child will be entered who has passed the fourth birthday.

As the babies are entered they will be registered according to their name and age and will be classified into groups. All mothers desiring to enter babies in the Baby Show are urged to register them during the hours of registration so that the show may be held promptly at 3 o'clock without confusion.

The Baby Show promises to be one of the biggest features of the Fair. The Fair association will offer no premiums in this department but merchants of Port Arthur will give winners special prizes. The committee in charge of the Baby Show is comprised of Mrs. C. T. Finley, chairman, Mrs. H. K. Goodwin, Mrs. Frank D. Mabry, Miss Elma Walker, Mrs. Mattie Jackson and Mrs. J. T. Braun.

In class AA prizes will be offered as follows: For the prettiest girl under one year, a baby cap by Francis E. Smith; for the prettiest girl from 1 to 2 years, a baby cap from Goldberg's; and for the prettiest girl from 2 to 4 years, a comb and brush from Deutgers.

In class BB prizes will be: For the handsomest boy under 1 year a baby walker from Crowell-Gifford; and for the handsomest boy from 1 to 2 years, a $2.50 savings account from the Seaboard State bank.

In class CC prizes will be: For the heaviest girl or boy under six months, a child's toilet set from the Corner Drug company; for the girl or boy with reddest hair, a high chair from Phoenix Furniture company; for the best twins under four years, a $5.00 savings account from the First National bank; and for the best triplets under 4 years, a $5.00 savings account from the Merchants National bank.

In class D prizes will be as follows: For the mother of the baby who comes the greatest distance, ten gallons of gas and one-half gallon of oil from Linn Motor company; for the father of the fattest baby, a safety razor from Kleas Drug company; for the mother of prize twins, an aluminum tea kettle from the Williams Furniture company; for the mother of prize triplets, an aluminum tea kettle from Vaughan-Pace company; for the prettiest girl in the show, a $5.00 savings account from the Seaboard State bank; and for the handsomest boy in the show, a $5.00 savings account from the First National bank.

Attractiveness, neatness and beauty will be considered in judging the babies. The committee in charge of the Baby Show at first considered judging the babies for physical perfection, but since has decided to judge solely by beauty merits.

Eighty playgrounds were maintained by London schools during the summer to keep the children off the streets.

RADIO TANGLES BEFORE CONFAB

Hoover Calls Conference to Iron Out Bogeys

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Broadcasting over a wider area than has ever been attempted, advertising by radio, distribution of wavelengths, classification of stations, time divisions, interference, amateur difficulties—

In fact every phase of radio transmission and reception is to be taken up for serious consideration and solution at the third national radio conference, which will be opened here on the night of October 6.

The conference has been called by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, primarily to find a more equitable means for distributing wavelengths or frequencies among broadcasters, amateurs, commercial ship and government stations. The first two conferences, also designed for this purpose, did not look far enough ahead to allow their findings to continue practical.

In the face of difficulties encountered by overlapping of wavelength limits, and the increase of broadcasters, amateurs and other stations, Department of Commerce officials have found it necessary to redistribute the frequencies on a wider basis. To do this the conference here will be open to all persons interested in radio.

Interference
Only by free discussion of the various situations in the industry, it is realized, can anything like a permanent program be reached.

Interference among broadcasters, amateurs and ship stations has come to such a pass that only by getting spokesmen from all types of radio application together can this problem be thrashed out to suit all.

Amateurs especially have been whipped about from one class of wavelengths to another. Given more freedom recently in a short wave schedule, the amateurs found themselves confronted with opposition from various commercial stations and special broadcasters, who also have been permitted to use low wavelengths or high frequencies.

Broadcasters have found difficulty among themselves, with more stations cropping up at points already crowded with broadcasters, with calls for more advertising and limitation in this field, and with efforts to spread their own propaganda from coast to coast.

Relaying
The last point may produce one of the most important discussions at the conference. The questions whether one dominant station or series of stations should be permitted to broadcast over the whole country at the same time, almost to the exclusion of others, may bring out heated talk on both sides.

In the course of these discussions, it is expected, will come suggestions on the best way to permit nationwide broadcasting by relays in the cheapest possible manner. At present relay broadcasting is feasible about as far as the middle west, starting from the dominant stations in the east. Cost of long distance wire service is almost prohibitive for relaying to farther stations.

But a system of relaying by short wave wireless may come out of the suggestions expected to be made at the conference, with the result that the Pacific coast may soon enjoy the same "relays" of important events that the east and middle west are getting.

Time cures all things, according to a judge who recently sentenced two to life imprisonment.

Dixie Revue Here Nets Legion $750

Proceeds from the American Legion show presented here recently netted Rudolph Lambert Post $750, officials reported to Legionnaires at their regular bi-monthly meeting in the club rooms on Lake Shore Drive Wednesday night. One thousand tickets were sold for the show, and with returns from advertising the post netted the amount reported.

A committee to draw up a flag etiquette for use in connection with displaying the flags distributed by the Legionnaires for decoration purposes was appointed by J. L. Dunn, post commander, with Grover Stock, chairman; and E. C. Horan and J. H. Gwin, members. The Legionnaires authorized Dunn to serve as Legion representative on the Salvation Army's advisory committee in this city.

Report was made by the treasurer that the Legion here is now free of debt, all outstanding accounts having been paid up. Among the executive men attending the meeting Wednesday night were several new members.

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 4.—Trial of Harry T. Smith, rent car driver, charged with murder in connection with the killing July 5 of Joe Terry, another rent car driver, has been dismissed in criminal district court. Dismissal was ordered upon recommendation of the district attorney, who said there was not enough evidence to convict.

Smith has been at liberty on $1,000 bond granted a few days after the killing.

Prevention Programs Planned For Schools Here

"It's not generally known, but $35,000 is saved to Port Arthur each year in fire insurance because fire prevention is taught in the Port Arthur schools," says Superintendent G. M. Sims regarding Fire Prevention week, to be observed here October 5 to 11.

Fire prevention programs will be held in the schools, and special speakers have been secured for the high schools and the downtown theatres. Details of this are being worked out by Fire Marshal J. B. Coe, and will be announced this week-end.

Fire prevention day was first observed 13 years ago when on October 9, anniversary of the day when Mrs. O'Leary's famous cow kicked over the lamp that started the Chicago fire, was set aside to be observed with fire prevention lessons. Several years later the entire week was set aside to be devoted to stressing fire prevention.

"I suffered from such a severe case of stomach trouble the past two years that I was finally told I could not live another six months," declares Mrs. Haas. "Everything I ate would sour on my stomach and cause me no end of suffering from indigestion and terrible weak, dizzy spells. Like many women, I suffered from terrible pains in both my sides, and I was so nervous, weak and miser-

World Flight Proves U. S. Not Immune to Attack in War Time

Gen. Patrick Says Difficulties of Ship Movements to Be Rife With Many Dangers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—"The round-the-world flight proves that no distance is great enough to make the United States or any other country immune from attack in time of war."

This was the answer of Major General Patrick, chief of the U. S. army air service, when the United Press asked him what was the chief military effect of the world flight.

"The flight gives added proof of the great difficulty of transporting troops in surface vessels without attack from the air," Patrick continued. He called attention to a recent White House statement that the flight raises the question whether the United States could again transport an army across the Atlantic, as in 1917.

Patrick emphasized that the flight demonstrated the commercial value of the airplane as a practical means of transportation to any place on the globe. This, according to other army officers, will stimulate commercial aeronautics in the United States which is absolutely essential to air preparedness for war.

Air preparedness, they say, depends upon a large number of commercial planes which can be converted quickly into fighting machines, and upon many factories which begin turning out war planes on a moment's notice.

"The world flight was a great publicity stunt to arouse the American people to the value of aeronautics, and we have put the idea across," according to an officer closely connected with the flight. As a result, he predicts a boom in airplane building. Commercial competition will increase the number of engineers working on aeronautical problems and accelerate progress as was the case with the automobile. Then, if there is a war, America will have more and better planes than any other country, he concludes.

Northern Routes Had It is believed that as a result of the flight American manufacturers of commercial aircraft, who have been at a disadvantage in freight competition, can now find a ready market for American machines abroad.

International commercial air transportation is now possible army officers say. But officers who planned this flight do not expect the route taken by Lieut. Smith and his associates to become the permanent one. They say the direct routes across the Pacific and Atlantic are more practicable. The Pacific airway of the future, they believe, is via Honolulu, Midway Island, Wake Island, the Philippines and China. The best Atlantic route is that taken by the record-breaking navy fliers in the N C 4s-Portugal, Azores, Newfoundland—or the Ireland, Newfoundland route.

Difficulties encountered by the world fliers in the Arctic on both the Pacific and Atlantic hops show that their route is possible only for a few months in the year, and therefore not practicable for commercial use.

But the army fliers deliberately chose the hardest route to demonstrate that the airplane is not a toy or a fair-weather machine, but is capable of sustained flight in the worst weather and over the most treacherous territory.

Despite this severe test, army engineers who examined the world planes when they landed in Washington were surprised to find how little the planes had deteriorated. They say the fabric wings and the bodies are almost as good as when the trip began, only the motors wear out.

There was little chance to test the motor's endurance because, whenever one part went bad on the trip, an entirely new motor was substituted at the next base. This was quicker than attempting repairs.

Leaking cylinders were in general responsible for most of the motor trouble and army experts have set to work to find a remedy. They say, however, that a gasoline motor at best is really too complicated for world flight.

But, they add, it will not be necessary in the future for the planes which start to make the entire flight. Fresh planes can continue the flight from each base, after a rapid change of cargo.

Trouble With Pontoons The entire trip was made in about 250 hours of actual flying, or in less than 15 days. Officers here expect that a passenger plane will soon be developed which can do 150 miles an hour, and reduce the trip to seven days.

Frequent pontoon trouble experienced on the flight raises the question whether this type of plane will be used for the purpose of the future. These were land planes, which were fitted with pontoons before each water jump. The true amphibian plane, however, is capable of making the change from sea to land plane and vice versa while in the air and at will. Lieutenant, the Italian aviator who came to grief while accompanying Americans on the Greenland hop, had difficulty with his amphibian type from the time he left Italy. Stuart McLaren, the British flier who got half way around the world and was forced down in the north Pacific, is said to retain confidence in the amphibian type of plane which he used. But engineers in general hold that the amphibian can never be developed into an ideal plane.

No army air officers now say world flights of the future will probably employ land planes for continental flying and hydro-airplanes for sea jumps, and that pontoons will be dispensed with altogether. Although there are many seaplanes with pontoons, the army engineers on the basis of this flight maintain that "boats" of the navy N C 4 type are superior. In these "boats," as distinct from so-called "seaplanes," the hull itself serves as a pontoon. Perhaps the chief need revealed by the flight was for direction-finding apparatus, they say. Repeatedly the men were held up by fog. Fog caused the accident which put Commander Martin out of the race and

AT THE LIBERTY
A thrilling fight between E. K. Lincoln, the star, and George Siegmann, in the role of the leader of a band of squatters, and a series of wonderful storm scenes, showing a wild night ride through the mountains, from the high spots in Selznick's "The Right of the Strongest," is now showing at the Liberty theatre.

Helen Ferguson, as the girl, a pretty school teacher, whose heart is torn between her love for the hero and her devotion to the simple mountain folk, also registers in the many romantic situations in the production.

The story has for its theme the coming of a young engineer to the hill region of Alabama, for the purpose of taking over a certain section for water-power uses for his company.

The fact that to do so it is necessary to drive a number of squatters from their homesteads forms a situation, which offers wide possibilities.

The star is supported by Tom Santschi, Tully Marshall, Miles Welch, June Elvidge, Robert Milasch, Winter Hall, and Little Cor Watson.

AT THE CAMEO
Screen stars in "The Foolish Virgin," based on the novel of the same name by Thomas Dixon, is showing at the Cameo.

Foremost of the stars is Elaine Hammerstein, playing the leading role.

Cast in the leading supporting role is Robert Fraser, whom Pola Negri has proclaimed the screen's greatest lover.

Gladys Brockwell, whose absence from the screen has been a mystery to picture fans, makes her return here to delight her old friends again. The rest of the cast includes well-known and popular screen players.

"The Shooting of Dan McGrew" Robert W. Service, author of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," the picture coming to the Pearce theatre Saturday was born at Preston, Eng., in January, 1874. His father, Robert Service, was the manager of the Preston bank.

After having completed his education at the Hillhead public school at Glasgow, he served as an apprentice with the Commercial Bank of Scotland, Glasgow. He then emigrated to Canada and settled on Vancouver Island, where he engaged in farming. Later he traveled up and down the Pacific coast, following many occupations, after which he joined the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Victoria, B. C. He was transferred to White Horse in the Yukon Territory and then to Dawson.

For eight years he lived in the Yukon and traveled extensively in the subarctic climate. It was at this time that he obtained the background for his stirring poems of the Klondike.

He finally devoted himself exclusively to literary work, writing the Songs of a Sourdough, Ballads of a Cheechako, Trail of '98, Rhymes of a Rolling Stone, The Pretender, Rhym, of a Red Cross Man, and The Spell of the Yukon.

"DESSERT OUTLAW" Buck Jones has broken his own record in the death of a daredevil in "The Desert Outlaw," at the Strand where it closes today.

No time to lose for lovers of two-fisted cowboy courage, who would thrill with Buck as, handcuffed, he rides down the sheriff's posse, then still handcuffed, leaps to a moving train, and crawling on to a brake-beam, cuts apart his shackles on the revolving carwheel.

DAVIS' DAUGHTER TO CONDUCT VOTE DRIVE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Norman McMillan Adams, daughter of John W. Davis, will start a "victory vote drive" for her father to continue through until election, the democratic national committee has announced. She will direct the drive from New York and Washington.

"I think he would make a good president because I have never had occasion to question his decisions or to doubt his wisdom and justice," Mrs. Adams said in a statement issued through national headquarters here. She will come here next Wednesday to take charge of her new work.

"Europe has suffered, is suffering from the unrest and distress which follow all great wars," Mrs. Adams said. "It is the younger generation who are not exhausted who must rebuild the world. I want to see the younger generation in our America take great responsibilities."

STRINGENT LAW WHEELER'S PLEA

Liberal Candidate Winds Up Montana Campaign

MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 3.—Honest enforcement of present laws alone would save the farmer and the worker, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, independent vice presidential candidate, declared here today.

Winding up his campaign in his home state of Montana, Wheeler placed blame for present economic conditions upon "a president who is so weak that he dare not do his duty lest he offend crooked politicians of his own party."

Says Reserve Act Failure

Wheeler pointed to the Federal Reserve Act, which he said was "passed primarily in the interests of the people, then denounced by the bankers as socialistic and finally controlled by them in such a way as to deflate the farmers and ruin the small bankers of the west."

A series of political misfortunes beset Wheeler in his campaign through Montana. Extreme difficulty is being encountered to satisfy the requirements for getting independent electors upon the ballots.

Wheeler Endorses Walsh

Wheeler was also conveyed to Senator Thomas J. Walsh, the man who tore the lid off Teapot Dome, in facing a fight that may result in his defeat. The plan issue has been raised against Walsh and certain labor organizations are working vigorously against him because he voted against the Esch-Cummins bill.

Wheeler, heartily endorsed Walsh. However, he was advised he has nothing to fear from Davis, and if the election ballot can be fixed he can safely carry Montana.

CAVERLY'S WIFE IS THREATENED

Judge Says Strenuous Year Caused Seclusion

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—From his rooms in Mercy Hospital here, Justice John R. Caverly, who gained international attention by his handling of the sensational Leopold-Loeb murder case, today sent word that he was practically recovered from his nervous breakdown.

"I have had a strenuous year," the judge said.

"It was climaxed by the Leopold-Loeb case and I was on the verge of collapse when it was over. I tried not to mind the unkind remarks made by the hundreds of cranks who wrote me about the case. But I started to worry when they began to threaten my wife. One man wrote he would stick a poison needle in her."

"All this was done in an effort to intimidate me. They tried to intimidate me both ways. It was a very heavy burden."

Ages of applicants must be between 23 and 45. A special uniform will be issued and the pay of patrol inspectors will be $1,600 a year.

EVEN COLLEGE PROFS HAVE DREAMY SPELLS

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 3.—College profs have suppressed desires, too.

Dr. John William Slaughter, professor of sociology at Rice Institute, spilled the beans recently in a lecture which he interspersed with some reflections.

"If I followed my own inclination," Slaughter said, "I'd leave for a South Sea Island, lie on the beach, and have them brought to me."

EX-SECRET SERVICE HEAD GETS 105 DAYS

J., by Judge McKeenan in federal court here.

Davis, La Follette Cut Into G. O. P. Lead in Digest's Poll

But Coolidge Still Polling Over Half of Popular Vote In Returns from Eighteen States

Davis and La Follette have decreased the proportional lead of Coolidge in this week's returns of The Literary Digest's 15,000,000 vote presidential poll published today.

Of the 689,019 ballots tallied, Coolidge has 397,522, Davis, 118,259, and La Follette 164,396, which is a percentage gain for both the democratic and progressive candidates from the earlier returns of The Digest's poll.

Returns from eighteen states are recorded in the present count showing Coolidge leading in every state except Virginia and Texas, where Davis is ahead, and Wisconsin, where La Follette polls a plurality. The progressive candidate is running second in eleven of the eighteen states and Davis is second in five.

"The first returns," states The Digest, "when the votes stood at 25,000, gave Coolidge 16,071, Davis, 3,792, and La Follette, 5,596. It will readily be seen that Mr. Davis' present vote is at a much improved ratio."

In the earliest returns, Mr. Coolidge had between four and five times as many as his democratic opponent. In the present poll of 689,019 votes, the republican candidate has only a trifle more than three times as many, a very considerable reduction in his proportional lead.

"Mr. La Follette, also, has cut down the lead of the president, the first returns showing the Coolidge strength at approximately three to one in La Follette's case, while the present report gives somewhat less than two and one-half to one."

"Mr. La Follette's popular vote continues to be well above that registered by Mr. Davis, but, of course, on the basis of the returns so far received, Mr. Davis would have the greater number of votes in the electoral college. Only Wisconsin is thus far credited to the Wisconsin senator, with Minnesota, where he was expected to have a considerable lead, thus far, apparently, safe in the republican column."

"The state that continues to hold the center of the stage, however, is California, where La Follette has piled up a total of 38,926 votes against the president's 45,324. Even though this shows a slight weakening in the La Follette strength since the 1923 state's first printed returns of 1924 for Coolidge and La Follette, the Wisconsin candidate's apparent strength continues to surprise those political prophets who had confided California to the republican fold."

An interesting feature of this poll of The Literary Digest is a detailed record of how the present voters in this state's balloting voted at the last official presidential election, which is also recorded state by state.

"To take the critical state of Minnesota," The Digest offers as an example of the comprehensiveness of its returns, "our records show that, of the 15,124 voters who vote for La Follette, 6,010 voted the republican ticket in 1920 while 1,888 voted democratic, and 4,455 either did not vote or did not register their previous vote on The Digest card."

In that state, 1,124 previous democrats are voting for Coolidge, with 18,696 former republicans, to make up the large total of more than 24,000 registered for the president, The comparatively small democratic vote in this state, 3,719 is contributed chiefly by 1,884 former democrats and 1,054 former republicans.

"However," The Digest cautions, "though twenty-five times 25,000 votes have now been collected, it must be kept in mind that only 18 of the 48 states contribute to the present total. The poll is young yet, the more strongly democratic states are still to be heard from, and many thousands of ballots are going out in the mails daily."

REVIVAL SERVICES CLOSE AT CLEBURNE

CLEBURNE, Oct. 3.—The revival meeting at the Brazos Avenue Methodist church, which has been brought to a close, resulted in many additions to the church. The preaching was done by the Rev. E. A. Turner, The Rev. R. B. Young is pastor of the church.

HE WAS FOLLOWING "PERSCRPTIONS" ORDER

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 3.—One Dallas cop is still baffled by what he saw a few days ago and dazed from trying to decide what he ought to have done.

A man, apparently well-dressed, took a bottle from his hip-pocket, a spoon from his vest, poured out a "dose" and swallowed pleasantly.

"Hey!" shouted the cop "what's the idea?"

"Just taking my medicine, officer," the "patient" replied calmly.

"The 'prescription' on the bottle reads: 'One tablespoon every four hours.'"

"Took my first at 6 a. m. at home and it's time for another," the man said.

"Too much for me," the policeman, still dazed, said as he walked away.

WEEK OF FEASTING FOLLOWS INSPECTION

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 3.—City Sanitary Inspectors Crouson and Rule recently presented South El Paso tenement dwellers with a week of royal feasting—that is, an elict which forced them to eat.

Inspections of 178 tenement rooms provoked the feasts. In every house where they found chickens chained to a bedstead or otherwise detained in sleeping rooms with the rest of the family, they ordered the chickens out.

Hearing losses if they chained their fowls in community yards, the owners thought a feast the easiest way out of the situation. 3700 turkeys figured in the week of feasting, inspectors say.

LIVESTOCK PRICES ARE 20 YEARS OLD

TROOP, Texas, Oct. 3.—Comparative figures on market conditions in this section of East Texas for the years 1924 and 1904, reveal that prices for livestock are practically the same. Cotton this year, however, is bringing almost five times as much as in 1904.

Prices for feedstuffs range from $8 to $15, about the same as 20 years ago while cotton sold here the same number of years ago at five cents a pound. This year it is 25 cents.

LATIN NATIONS AFTER CAPITAL

Plea Sounded at Pan-American Congress

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 3.—An urgent plea for United States capital to invest in the "great untapped resources" of Latin-American republics was sounded today by delegates to the Pan-American congress.

Official representatives of the Southern countries were unanimous in urging investors to expand their Latin-American holdings, promising rich returns and pledging co-operation of their own nations in supporting northern financed enterprises.

A message from President Coolidge expressing the hope the present conference would "promote every good and desirable interest in the relationship among the candidates of the Americas" was read to the congress.

8 Professions of Faith at Church

Eight professions of faith were made at the Nazarene church, which is being conducted by Rev. Ellis of Dodsenville. Rev. Ellis spoke to a large audience last night on the text, "For both He that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren."

Tonight Rev. Ellis will speak on "His Majesty, The Devil," and on Sunday, the services will be held as usual.

G. O. P. ALIBIS FLAYED BY JOHN W. DAVIS

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Having opened the democratic campaign in New York, John W. Davis, invaded New Jersey for a series of speeches today to continue his drive for honesty in government, criticizing the administration for alleged laxity which permitted such scandals as Teapot Dome.

The candidate speaks in Trenton, Newark, Princeton and Elizabeth today and in Providence, R. I., tomorrow night.

Davis flayed republican "alibis" in a speech at Madison Square Garden last night.

JAZZ BLUES LEAD TO BLOWS IN HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 3.—Jazz blues led to blows and then broken friendships here.

Almeda Gittin and Johnnie Mae Carter, dusky damsels, lived just across the street from each other. Johnnie Mae had some of Almeda's phonograph records. Almeda has some of Johnnie Mae's dishes.

When they "swapped" back, Almeda missed the "very meanest record," "Mamma's Got the Blues" and "Outside of That He Is All Right With Me."

They met in the street—talked—fought and were arrested. Almeda was fined.

He Never Beat His Wife; Just Defended Self, 'Solomon' Tells

Solomon was in the role of defendant this morning instead of judge but lived up to his reputation for mentality by clearing himself of a charge of wife beating in Judge Dyeus' court this morning.

Solomon, a negro, testified he never beat his wife but just took "tools" away from her when she tried to persecute him. He exhibited a gash in his hand he said he received by taking a razor from his wife. He said he took an axe from her but not until she cut a big slice off the piano. It took the assistance of two neighbor negroes though to take a pistol from the enraged wife, he said.

Judge Dyeus was convinced the negro did well under the circumstances and dismissed the case.

PAYS $100 FINE FOR CARRYING PISTOL HERE

Pleading guilty to charge of carrying a pistol a man arrested Thursday afternoon by Police Chief Corington and Officer Bennett was assessed a fine of $100 and costs by Judge A. W. Dyeus in police court today.

The defendant said he was "not laying for anybody," but just slipped the weapon in his pocket when he left his room yesterday noon.

FIRST WOMAN CUT OUT CASE BOOKED

The police docket got a brand new innovation today when Motorcop M. E. Davis made an entry against a fair woman motorist charging "operation of motor vehicle with cutout open."

Police state this is the first time a woman has ever been charged here with this offense. "They break all other traffic laws and do some dangerous stunts with cars there are no laws against, but you never find a woman who drives with the cutout open, rarely," Davis observed.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 3.—Detroit police late this afternoon seized 22,000 gallons of beer, the largest seized in this city. The find was made in a building supposedly used as a garage, but which was found to be a veritable brewery.

50 DEPORTEES DUE ON GULF

Roundup to Be Concentrated At Galveston

GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 4.—With the Kline party from the Pacific coast scheduled to reach Houston Oct. 14 and another party expected earlier from Laredo and Brownsville, immigration officials connected with the Galveston office are expecting upwards of fifty deportees to arrive here within the next two weeks for deportation on vessels departing from Galveston the last half of October, it was stated yesterday.

While definite advice is lacking as to the number which may be sent here, immigration officials expect to receive more aliens at one time than they ever have had since the deportations through Galveston were started. The Kline party will include deportees from California and other western states, while the party from Laredo and Brownsville, which is expected about Oct. 6, will contain aliens apprehended in Texas and ordered deported for various reasons.

Six deportees were sent out of Galveston Tuesday on the Italian steamship Glida, including one Russian, two Germans, one Italian and two Spaniards. Another Italian, who was returning to Italy voluntarily after having been apprehended by immigration officials as a deserter from the Italian navy, was also included in the party which went out aboard this ship, although not classed as a deportee.

In the past, officials have received as high as 32 aliens at one time for deportation from the port of Galveston. Most of these came through in the regular Kline deportation parties which begin in California and continue through to New York, touching also at New Orleans.

Of the small lots of deportees who have been received here recently only two remain—a Russian and a girl, believed to be a Mexican, whose nationality is in dispute.

GIRL THROWN OUT OF AUTO

Blames Man Driver In Story To Police

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 4.—Declaring that she was thrown from an automobile on the Maple avenue road by a stranger who had first attempted to attack her, a young woman is at Parkland hospital suffering from numerous bruises and is reported in a highly nervous condition. The young woman was taken to the hospital by G. H. Walker and W. R. Casey, who were making an endurance run for a motor company, who reported they found her in a dazed condition at midnight last night.

The woman is reported to have said that she was thrown from an automobile after resisting the advances of a man with whom she was riding. She asserted the man volunteered to take her home from her work, but that instead of taking her home he drove rapidly into the country. When found by Walker and Casey the girl was kneeling beside the road and was crying.

AUTO CRASH HURTS FATAL TO WOMAN, 66

STEVENS POINT, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Lowell Liscomb, 66, pioneer resident of the town of Lanark, died at the Wisconsin Veterans' Home hospital, Waupun, from injuries received in an automobile accident near Ameset. The car in which she was riding with her granddaughter, Miss Marian Albani, assistant matron at the Veterans' home, plunged into a ditch and overturned after skidding in loose gravel.

Menus For a Family

Breakfast—Baked apples, cooked wheat cereal, thin cream, creamed codfish on toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Corn pudding, creamed celery, whole wheat bread and butter, jelly, tea, milk.

Dinner—Baked white fish, scalloped potatoes, mashed turnips, romaine salad, whole wheat rolls, steamed date pudding, milk, coffee.

With the exception of the romaine salad there is nothing on these menus a child of four cannot eat. He should not be allowed a large portion of the dinner pudding but as this is a simple, easily digested dessert it can't hurt him.

Corn Pudding

Four or five ears of sweet corn, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 cup milk, 2 eggs.

Grate corn or cut lengthwise through the center of each row of kernels, then cut a thin slice from tops of kernels and scrape out milk with blunt edge of knife. Beat whites and yolks of eggs separately. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add corn, flour, sugar, salt, milk and pepper and mix well. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry on a platter with a wire whisk. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake half an hour in a moderate oven. Serve at once or the soufflé will fall.

Steamed Date Pudding

Four tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup molasses, 1-2 cup milk, 1-2 cup white flour, 1-4 cups graham flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg 1-2 pound dates.

Soften butter. Beat eggs well. Add molasses, butter and milk and beat with egg beater. Mix and sift white flour, salt and soda. Add to graham

CLAIM GOLD IS FOUND IN WELL

Bexar County Driller Hits Quartz Deposit

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 3.—The most interesting oil well in Bexar county is being dug with a pick and shovel on the Frank P. Carr farm, eighteen miles west of San Antonio on the Potranca road, and has just gone through one foot of the hardest sort of substance that has been analyzed by a local assayer as carrying a high percentage of gold.

Under and near this are the diggers have gone three feet into an old shale which is being used as fuel to fire the boiler to run the hoisting machinery.

The well was shut down for thirty days while putting up new machinery, and work has been in progress again for about one week. Going through a hard white rock, the workmen ran into a genuine oil gusher. A little stream of oil about as big as a pin gushed from the rock a foot high. When the rock carrying the gold was encountered the workmen had difficulty in making progress. The rock was so hard that it broke and bent the ends of the picks.

FIND WOMAN'S BODY; POLICE SEEK SLAYERS

DETROIT, Oct. 3.—Led to an Elizabeth street address by an anonymous telephone call, police found the body of Mrs. Martha Callahan, 32, lying on her bed, her jaw broken, finger-marks on her throat and her clothing torn to ribbons.

The police arrested Mrs. May Perry, 55, keeper of the rooming house in which the body was found, and John D. Myers, a roomer. They are being held awaiting an investigation.

Mrs. Callahan, whose husband is serving a life term at Arquette penitentiary for murder, apparently was killed in the tonneau of an automobile that was found parked in front of the house and her body dragged into the house and thrown on the bed.

Police are searching for Mrs. Perry's son, Gordon, who is said to be the owner of the motor car.

'Keep Your Shirts On,' Judge Landis Tells Howlers

Watch Johnson Against Art Nehf at World Series—Come Early to News' Party, 2 p. m.

Series Will Open Saturday Despite Johnson's Protest

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—With the world of Commissioner Landis for it, that nothing can stop the world series and with the two ball clubs gathered for the opening game, Washington had survived yesterday's hysteria and today was ready to forget the dirt thrown at the New York Giants.

In a rather warm session with the newspaper men last night Landis said that it was time for some people in authority to keep their shirts on and that the series would be played despite the comment of Ban Johnson, president of the American League, and Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Landis Hot Under Collar

The commissioner blew up when a newspaper man asked him why he had ordered Jimmy O'Connell and Cozy Dolan to a banishment from baseball on their testimony and allowed Frank Frisch, Pep Young and George Kelly on their testimony. He was told that the public, after what happened in 1919 was entitled to be given the testimony of all the players implicated in the scandal. He indicated the public would get the details when he got good and ready to make them public.

Minor League managers and many players gathered here for the series expressed the opinion that the two Giants had been guilty of a foolish piece of work. They condemned them in no uncertain terms for "making the business bad."

The Giants arrived last night and were hurried to the Wardman Park hotel, which has been made their headquarters. The players obviously

Wilmer Butaud and Elliot Out—Sour Lake Team Questioned

World Series Box Heroes By Feg Murray

Among the pitchers who have won everlasting fame in post-season championships, the names of Mathewson, Bender and Coombs stand out above all others. "Chief" Bender, the great Indian pitcher of the Athletics, won six victories, which is more than any other hurler has to his credit. Bender's victories were in 1905 over the Giants, and in 1910 over the Cubs; in both 1911 and 1913 he beat the Giants twice. The great Matty, who single-handedly shot out the Athletics in three games in 1905, lost five world series games altogether—two in 1911, two in 1912, and one in 1913. "Big Six" pitched more innings than any other pitcher—103 2/3. Some pitchers just last about one-third of one inning.

Jack Coombs of the Athletics is one of four pitchers to win three world series games and lose none in one series. He accomplished this in 1910 against the Cubs. Coombs won two other games, one in the 1911 championships and one in 1916 for Brooklyn. Jack gave nine bases on balls in the game of October 18, 1910.

Experts Prove Johnson Wears His Red Flannels

BY JOE WILLIAMS
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The cables announce today that a lady crystal gazer in Liverpool is predicting the world will come to an end in October.

This is a sort of off-hand way of saying that the baseball experts are going to guess the world series right this year.

It's been a long time since the experts guessed right. For three years they stuck to the Yankees like a mole on a chorus girl's shoulder blade, and made just about the same amount of progress. Last year they switched to the Giants and if they did nothing else they kept their records straight.

This year they are predicting anything is liable to happen and, unless the dope goes plum crazy, they'll probably ring the bell.

As the series shapes up now, according to the expert minds, (1) the team that gets the breaks is almost certain to win, (2) the team that gets the pitching can't be stopped, (3) the team that gets the batting is a shoo-in and (4) will you have your eggs up or over?

In No Child's Play

Nevertheless and notwithstanding the business of experting is no child's play, and no wonder with all the smart children we have these days.

One of the things that makes an expert what he is, is the past who is always saying, "Pretty soft for you! Get to go to the games for nothing and meet all the big leagues."

It is estimated that 4205 of these flippers were quietly murdered and their bodies dismembered in the two big leagues alone during the month of September.

The number would be much higher if all the experts had money enough to buy guns.

The impression seems to exist that the experts do nothing but guess. This is ridiculous on the face of it. No one ever guessed wrong all the time.

The experts have a system. It is the same system by which One Punch McGoffey ran a 20-dollar bill into a shoeing at Lorton last month.

Those Statistics

The expert deals lavishly in statistics. By them he can prove that Walter Johnson wears red underwear, is unfitted for an extended career as a wire-walker and is viciously partial to Pola Negri sex dramas.

This being the case, still stringing with the statistics, it naturally follows that LaFollette will carry the west and what chance has Coolidge, a guy that eats pie for breakfast, to beat Davis in Mississippi?

In other words, to a man up a tree, it looks like the greatest series in history, as we remarked last year, and the year before.

MADE ASSISTANT AGENT
LIVINGSTON, Texas, Oct. 3.—J. L. Walker, who passed with high credits the recent A. and M. London's match-tester is dead. He struck 40 matches a minute during working hours. Many pipe-smokers beat that record.

MASCOT STRONG FOR SENATORS

Washington Kids All Out Rooting Strong

By WALTER MORRIS
Mascot of Washington Senators (As told to the United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The Senators will win the first game of the big series Saturday because they are a better ball team than the New York Giants.

They will win because every boy in Washington is going to be out rooting for them and because—well because they're just got to win.

Muddy Ruel is my favorite player on our team. He is the best catcher in the American league, or any other league, I think.

Likes Ruel Best

Walter Johnson is great, too. He is the best pitcher in the world. I guess. We think so in Washington anyway. Walter will pitch, I think, and if he does the Giants won't have a chance.

Of course, I really like Muddy the best, maybe just because he has always been a kinda particular friend of mine.

Muddy and Walter work together and they surely do work perfectly. They have all season and will in the series.

I guess I'm the happiest boy in Washington today and I expect to keep right on being happy because Muddy and Walter will beat the Giants and Washington will win the world's championship because we've sure got one fighting team.

Baseball is great for boys and every kid in Washington either plays or wants to play. All the boys I know keep track of everything the Senators do. We've figured it out on paper just like the coaches do, and the Senators will win—and you can bet on that.

Walter was cleaning Muddy Ruel's spikes when he dictated his story. He nearly polished them off the soles when he got talking about his friend, the catcher.

The boy has been mascot of the Washington club all season and his black bullet head is as familiar to fans as most of the players.

Asked how old he was, he said: "Thirteen, just an ordinary kid."

plays John Tarleton at Brownwood Tomorrow S. M. U. plays Trinity, Texas plays Phillips, Rice plays Sam Houston Teachers, Baylor plays Denton Teachers, Oklahoma A. & M. meets Kansas, and Arkansas opens against Springfield Normal.

Baylor has been rather handicapped by the inopportune discovery of ineptitude of Jack Jones, regarded as the green and gold's best backfield bet, but the Bears will be coming like sixty by the time the tough conference games arrive. S. M. U. started going very, very slow last week, and probably was holding back. But S. M. U. has practically the same entry plus that won the title last year, and that carries its weight, regardless of any and all scores this year.

Aggies Not Holding Back

This year the Southwestern game will be important in that it furnishes an exact line of comparison between Texas University and Texas A. & M. Texas won from Southwestern last week, 27-0, and today's score at College Station should furnish very near an exact comparison between the strengths of the two ancient contenders. The Aggies will not be trying to hold back today, for they are working at top speed to whip into shape for the Sewanee game.

The indecision that marked Baylor and S. M. U. in their opening games last week-end has been absent from Texas and A. & M. The Aggies are fighting to reach mid-season form for the Sewanee game, and Coach Bible should today determine the first string that will carry the brunt of the work through the season. "Doc" Stewart over at Austin has been telling the world that the Longhorns are in a mellancholy, and has been whipping the lunch into form to find out just exactly what his resources.

The resources seemed to be rather well last week. We figure that the Longhorns and the Aggies rather have the jump on the other teams in knocking off the edges and attaining smoothness. The Aggies are working for their Sewanee game, the university bunch for their S. M. U. game two weeks hence. And if there is anything in the world Texas U. is trying for this year, it is to give the Mustangs the worst drubbing they have ever had in their young lives. Texas has a score to settle with S. M. U. in regard to last year's championship, and while it hasn't been generally announced, the Longhorns will be in the best shape humanly possible for that S. M. U. game.

More Games Tomorrow

A. & M. will defeat Southwestern today—probably by three touchdowns, possibly by only two touchdowns.

No other conference team is playing today, although the East Texas Teachers are meeting Burleson college at Commerce, and Howard Payne

Strike on Series Plan of Players McGraw Charges

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—That players on both New York and Washington teams were seriously considering a strike until the scandal that threw O'Connell and Dolan out of organized baseball developed, was reported here today.

The players were to demand salaries for the series games in addition to the check paid the contestants at the end of the series on the ground that this latter money was merely a bonus and could not be regarded as salary.

Giants players already had held a meeting at which plans for a strike were outlined, Manager McGraw told reporters.

What is a split buck?
This is a deception play in which, for example, the left halfback fakes taking the ball on a cross buck to the right, but as soon as the half has passed in front of the fullback, the latter drives straight ahead on a straight buck. This play offers an opportunity for clever, deceptive handling of the ball by the quarterback.

Blocking is interposing the body between the opponent and the ball or the man with the ball.
All interference is some form of blocking and a team is said to have good interference when this blocking is executed with precision and power.

Johnson Insists He'll Take Series Into Federal Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, will confer with his attorneys in Washington Sunday to prepare a plan of federal court action in the baseball scandal involving two New York National league baseball players, he announced.

Johnson said he was determined to see the guilty ones punished. At the same time he said he believed the world's series between Washington and the Giants should be called off.

"I believe that the investigation of the scandal should be made by the federal courts," Johnson said. "I also believe that such an investigation will uncover an astonishing lot of scandal in the ranks of baseball."

Johnson is angry because he was not officially notified of the confessions of Jimmy O'Connell to attempt to bribe the shortstop of the Phillies to throw a game between the Phillies and the Giants.

"Commissioner Landis must have known of this before he left for the east and I do not understand why he did not send me word," Johnson said.

"The government should protect baseball and eliminate the rotten influences at work to corrupt the game," he said.

"Kid's Dumbness" To Blame For Scandal, Says McGraw

By PAUL W. WHITE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The world's series will open in Washington tomorrow, despite charges and counter charges of bribery growing out of the suspension of Jimmy O'Connell and Cozy Dolan of the Giants.

Manager John McGraw of the Giants described the suggestion of Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Ban Johnson, president of the American League, that the scandal was of such importance as to call off the world series, as the statements of "crack pots."

Meanwhile, with these recriminations and O'Connell describing himself the "goat" and Dolan denying any part in the affair whatever, base ball fans were wondering as to the "why" of O'Connell's act.

"O'Connell was never a quick thinker on the ball field," McGraw said, "and now he has pulled a 'boner' worse than Merkle's or any of the famous errors of judgment."

"Have you ever had any trouble with O'Connell before?" the manager was asked.

"No, he was very quiet and reserved. But I have never been able to talk with him and know him. But I believe it was just a kid's dumbness behind the whole thing."

"But how about Dolan? He has more judgment, surely?"

"You haven't known Cozy as long as I have," snapped McGraw.

The manager said he was astounded at the bribe being offered a player on the Philadelphia team—a club who have beaten consistently all year.

Professional gamblers, it is believed, would not wait until the last game of the season before making such an offer and with the pennant practically already clinched and the Giants all seemingly confident of the championship, it is almost unthinkable that the team as a whole had any part in the affair.

But O'Connell insists that players Kelly, Young and Frisch had knowledge of the part Jimmy was to play, even if they were not actual contributors to the $500 purse.

"I've given out the whole truth," he said. "There isn't any reason why I should lie about it, is there?"

Sand and O'Connell Friends From Old Pacific Coast Days

WILKES BARRE, Pa., Oct. 3.—"I feel terrible about having to expose Jimmy O'Connell, as I had known him for a long time, but there was nothing else to do," Heinie Sand, Phillies shortstop, told the United Press on his arrival here to play an exhibition game.

Surrounded by a wedge of his teammates, Sand at first refused to say a word.

"I met Jimmy when we were both in the Pacific Coast league. I always liked him and I am broken up over this."

"He approached me on the third base line just before the game Saturday and after talking a moment he made the offer. I merely said 'nothing doing' and walked away."

Sand said he knew nothing about other Giant players being involved and could not say why O'Connell had been picked to approach him.

JOHN CALVIN AND OR SERVETUS

Part IV—The Book Brings Death

John Calvin read the book of Dr. Servetus with anger. It said that Jesus had not lived forever. It also said that people should not be baptized until after they had grown up.

These ideas seemed terrible to Calvin. He declared that the author ought to be put to death. It appears that he caused a friend of his to send a letter to the town where Servetus lived. In this letter, Servetus was denounced as a heretic.

The doctor was put on trial before a church court. He was condemned to die and was put in prison until the sentence could be carried out. One day he jumped from the prison terrace garden to the roof of a shed, then to the ground. Fleeing from the town, he made his way toward the border of Switzerland. By some means he obtained a horse and galloped to a village a few miles from Geneva.

Servetus wanted to go to Italy, but he decided to stop at Geneva for a while. He thought no one there would know him.

Going into the city on foot, he took up lodging in an out-of-the-way house. He remained there almost a month. Nobody knew him, for he gave a false name. Then one day he dared to go into a church. Calvin happened to come into the same church. He had met Servetus many years before. Gazing at the stranger, he said to himself:

"Ah ha! This must be Michael Servetus. I shall have him arrested."

The doctor was seized and put in prison. Before long he was placed on trial. The book he had written was used to prove him a dangerous man. Calvin acted as a lawyer against him and he was found guilty. By order of the court he was put to death. Some of his writings were burned at the same time.

Calvin remained the chief man in Geneva for many years. He kept a strict watch on the people and tried to make them do as he thought best. Some citizens looked upon him as a wise leader, others feared him.

In the year 1603, a group of "pilgrims" walked out of the city of Geneva. They were members of a church Calvin started. Going to the spot where Dr. Servetus died, they fell on their knees and prayed. They asked forgiveness for the court which had put the great doctor to death 350 years before.

Negotiations have been under way by the officials for several weeks endeavoring to line up several first class free attractions. If the Hawaiian deal goes through as it seems now it will, fair heads feel another big boost to the amusement feature of the exposition will have been gained.

BAPTISTS GET SIX ADDITIONS

Dr. Lee Bases Sermon On Prodigal Son

Six additions to the First Baptist church, four on profession of faith and two by letter, at the revival services Thursday evening in the church, which are being conducted by Rev. Dr. J. E. Lee, of Herrin, Ill., were reported today by Rev. Dr. C. W. Culp, pastor.

Dr. Lee's sermon Thursday night was based upon the story of the prodigal son, and the services were designated as "Men's Night," members of the two men's classes in the Sunday school, the Men's Bible class and the Berean class, occupying special pews in the auditorium.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Dr. Lee will speak on the subject of Friendship. Next Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock, in the Cameo theater, the evangelist will address the combined memberships of the Fidelity class, for young women, and the Berean class, for young men, taking for his subject "The Three-Fold Secret of a Successful Life."

Because of the interest manifested in the announcement of Dr. Lee's intention of giving the story of the recent disorders in Herrin, Ill., it has been decided to give him this lecture in two churches of the city Sunday afternoon: first, at 3 o'clock in the First M. E. Church, South, 1543 Fifth street, and again at 4 o'clock in the First Baptist church, Fifth street and Waco avenue.

It has been decided to close the revival meeting with the Wednesday evening services, and baptismal services will be held Monday night and also Wednesday night, Rev. Culp said today. The last of a series of special services will be held tonight and is designated as "Junior and Intermediate Night."

Commish Is Idle

While Members Fish

"Where's the mayor this morning?" "Gone fishing."

"Where's the Commissioner Wade?" "Gone fishing."

"Where's the Commissioner Wiley?" "Gone fishing."

Perhaps City Clerk E. H. Miles is mayor pro tem, and perhaps he isn't. At any rate, the city hall is even quieter than usual until next week, for the administrative fishermen will not return until Saturday.

Among those accompanying the commissioners were C. C. Logan and C. C. Chandler.

Not even their destination was announced by the fishermen. Pay checks for the city pay day Saturday were signed in advance by the commissioners.

NEGRO FRACTURES LEG

Earl Raymond, negro, of 312 San Antonio avenue, suffered a fracture of his right leg below the knee while at work at the Gulf Refining company Thursday afternoon about 6:30 o'clock, authorities at Mary Gates hospital reported today. Raymond's condition is not serious, according to reports from the hospital.

HOGS REACH HIGH PRICE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Hogs reached $11.25, new high for the year, at the Chicago stock yards today. Good shipping demand and higher corn prices were responsible for the advance.

LETTER FROM RUTH BURKE TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

Dearest Leslie: You certainly are having your troubles. I think I have never loved you of one of them, however. I have succeeded in separating, more or less completely, your mother from the influence of that old maid, Priscilla Bradford.

I expect you have already seen the telegram. Mrs. Prescott sent to her son, putting forth her side of the trouble and her moving to the hotel. It didn't affect Jack just the way she thought it would, for the manager of the Plaza showed me a night letter from him saying to make his mother, Mrs. Prescott, just as comfortable as possible, to pay her and her nurse, Miss Anderson, every attention, and to send the bill to his office, where it would be promptly paid by his secretary, Mrs. Atherton.

He stated, however, he had nothing to do with Miss Bradford, and would not be responsible for any debts incurred by her at the hotel. The manager told me that when he sent this telegram up to Mrs. Prescott's room, there was a great how-to-do. Your mother-in-law insisted she was sure Jack had not written the telegram. She said it sounded like you, and you had probably written it and signed Jack's name.

This made Miss Anderson quite indignant, and she told the manager to confirm the wire by a telephone conversation with Mr. Prescott, charging the same on Mr. Prescott's bill for his mother. Jack told him you had nothing to do with it, and insisted that his orders should be carried out. The manager then wrote a polite note to Miss Bradford, saying he had made some mistake in her room, and offering her a cheaper one, enclosing a bill for fifty dollars for her five days in the suite she was occupying.

Miss Anderson told me the fracas that then ensued was as good as a farce comedy. Miss Bradford came rushing into your mother's suite saying she had been told to leave a hotel for the first time in her life, and she called upon all her ancestors, from Governor Bradford down, to bear witness to her respectability and the enormity of the insult.

As soon as things quieted down a little, Miss Bradford said: "What will I do now? You know, my dear Mrs. Prescott, I have not the money to pay this bill. I certainly thought I was your guest."

This brought things to a climax, for you must have known by this time, Leslie, that your mother-in-law is rather close. She hangs on to all the money she gets, and you and Jack pay most of her bills. While she thought Jack and you were going to settle for Miss Bradford, she did not worry about her. She liked to have her around to stir up things. But she certainly did not relish paying her hotel bill of ten dollars a day out of her own very generous allowance.

At the first hint of such a thing, she turned face so quickly that Miss Anderson said she had to hide her smile by looking out of the window. "Dear Priscilla," said your mother-in-law, "there must be some great misunderstanding, for I thought of course you were paying your own way at this hotel. You will remember when you said you wanted to come and visit me, I invited you for two weeks at the apartment when I moved here. It didn't enter my mind for one minute that you were my guest after you left the apartment. "But, my dear Mrs. Prescott," said poor Priscilla, "you had Miss Anderson make all the arrangements for me here."

"Naturally I wanted to save you as much trouble as possible." "Well, all I can say," said Priscilla indignantly, "is that you have gotten me into more trouble than I expected I would ever have again."

We Ask Men

To protect their hair

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I speak for all women when I say that we want men to keep their locks. And above all, their hair. The women do that. You would never forgive us if we did not. We beg you to follow our example.

My whole career on the stage has depended largely on my hair. So many years ago I went to France and secured the best hair helps she knew. And I have kept up with every new discovery.

The result is my hair as you see it, per. Photo 1923. It is thick and lustrous, finer far than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, and never a touch of gray. Now countless women who use what I use are attaining like results.

I am offering to women the best I have found, and men are also welcome. My Hair Youth combines the utmost that modern science knows. I am sure that no one knows anything for the hair which does what this combination does.

I apply it with an eye-dropper directly to the scalp. Applying tonics to the hair is ridiculous. The whole thing lies in the scalp, in the roots, and there my Hair Youth goes.

It combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It tones and stimulates the scalp. Hair thrives on such a soil as flowers thrive by like methods.

I believe that my Hair Youth now combines the greatest hair helps in existence. I have never seen anything else which brought comparable results.

Now I have placed it in every drug store, on every toilet counter. All who desire may obtain it. The name is Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth. It will amaze and delight you. I authorize every dealer to return the price to anyone who claims the slightest disappointment. Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 236 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.—Adv.

WOMEN CLUBS BACKING VOTE

Illinois League Organizes Campaign

By NEA Service

CHICAGO.—The Illinois League of Women Voters is going to be quite active for the remainder of the presidential campaign. Having successfully carried out a "Get-Out-the-Vote" campaign during the primaries, the women are putting forth every effort to make their organization function one hundred per cent at the November election.

During the primary campaign the women compiled and printed complete election figures for each county, urging the voters to swell the attendance at the polls. They then tabulated and printed the records of each candidate, so that all the voters would be informed as to who's who. Now the league has issued a series of flyers and are carrying on a vigorous publicity campaign and co-operating with all interested agencies in an effort to "get out the vote" this fall.

Speeches are being broadcast by radio, moving picture theaters are using slides and open meetings are being held where all candidates, regardless of party affiliation, are being invited.

Graduated from the nurses' training school at Mary Gates hospital, Misses R. Ants Like Dope So Well, Long Lines Die Just to Taste It

The Pied Piper ridding ancient Hamlin of rats and then getting beat out of his pay did not have as easy time of it as the manufacturer of a rodent destroyer who took the contract to kill all the ants on the high school campus.

A tantalizing mixture which first attracts, then foils and finally kills the tiny runners, is said to have not only destroyed millions on the school grounds but steady streams from blocks around seek the mixture. Ants are said to be coming in long thick lines from across the canal bank into the school yard for the privilege of giving their lives just to taste the deadly mixture with its fatal attraction.

AILMENTS ALL VANISHED WHEN SHE TOOK TANLAC

Mrs. Calhoun Tells How This Medicine Relieved Her of Her Troubles and Built Her Up.

"If people who have suffered until they feel discouraged only knew what Tanlac has done for me, they would lose no time taking the medicine," said Mrs. J. B. Calhoun, 325 E. Quincy St., San Antonio, Texas.

"A year of severe stomach trouble and constipation had me so nervous, weak and dizzy I could scarcely do a bit of work. My weight went down to 120 pounds and I finally underwent an operation, after which I remained weak and anemic until I began taking Tanlac and the Vegetable Pills."

"This treatment gave me a splendid appetite and digestion, increased my weight to 150 pounds, and brought me back to normal health and strength, leaving me without a single ailment. The Tanlac treatment is certainly grand."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.
